

IMSI Professional Services

We offer an array of professional services that specifically serve your credit union and your members:

Custom Web Development

Having a beautiful website is nice, but having a functional website is necessary. Members need to be able to login to their online banking, transfer money, apply for loans and more, all with ease. If they can't do these simple tasks on every device they use, they're likely to choose a different banking institution. Custom web development ensures your website is functional for your members and employees, regardless of the device they are using.

Online Self-Service Forms

Sometimes your members want to complete banking tasks away from your branch. Online Self-Service Forms guide your members through a variety of steps and processes to complete the correct forms for their desired outcome, much like a live customer service representative. Online Self-Service Forms allow you to serve more members during and outside of branch hours.

Custom eForms

Printing and mailing forms to your members gets expensive. Save money on postage and formatting with our custom eForms. eForms can also pull information from your credit union's core to minimize the time it takes your employees and members to complete the form. This eForm creation process can be used to create forms for account, loan and other applications, as well as letters and notices.

UI and Batch Scripting

Maximize your Keystone API with UI or batch scripting services. Scripting automates tasks to free up your employees to spend more time focusing on your members. UI Scripting does this by creating reusable forms. Batch Scripting does this by creating files with commands that run the automated tasks.
