

Save Money on Statements

Why are statements so pricey?

Members need to receive account statements to help them monitor their account activity, help them budget and more, but creating and sending them every month gets expensive. You probably send information to a print vendor where they format, print, stuff and mail the statements. For eStatements, the vendor still needs to format them. Paying a third party to perform these activities adds up every month. What if these activities could be simplified and be made available at a lower price?

Speeding up the statement delivery process with Make A Statement

Make A Statement generates statements in the format required by your institution and print vendor, which saves your vendor time spent reformatting and leads to overall savings for your credit union. Make A Statement is fully integrated with the Keystone core, so all transactions are accurate, and print and eStatements are submitted separately but accurately.

Make A Statement also does the following:

- Hosts member statements, notices, tax documents and more...
- Integrates with Internet banking vendor
- Notifies members of new eStatement
- Allows your team access to statements

You need to send statements. Why not simplify the process and save money?
